Tamagotchi connection rerelease manual!

News

Bandai have updated their site: https://www.bandai.com/brands/tamagotchi/tamagotchi-connection. And they've uploaded a manual as well: https://www.bandai.com/amfile/file/download/file/240/product/1297910/

Some highlights:

- Choice between English / Japanese
- 7 non-connection games (Get note, bump, flag, heading, memory, sprint, hoops)
- Passwords and souvenirs
- No version selection for connection
- Connection games: "Gotchi point" game and item games:
  - Ball / RC Car 1 / Rope (press the button more than the other tama)
  - Building block / balloon
  - Trumpet (repeat the other tama's melody)
- Can donate points to the Gotchi King (why?)
- Limit of 19 foods and 32 non-foods

Overall it looks pretty similar to the V3! It's interesting that they kept some Tamatown-related features (without mentioning Tamatown), like the example souvenir being a passport and being able to donate points. I like that there are going to be interactive IR games.

There was no mention of a salesperson (but there's one here: https://tamagotchi-official.com/us/series/connection/howto/). Also no mention of pausing. And here's the V3 manual for comparison: https://tamaplanet.com/images/docs/Tama_Manual/u/tama_v3.pdf.

Yeah, there's no pausing on the Japanese Connection units, so I wonder if they took it out. Sincerely hoping not because it's so useful.

if i'm not wrong in vintage tamagotchi v3 there wasn't a pause mode instruction on the manual, so maybe they haven't included it on the manual but the feature is on there?

Purpose-ful

The LIS release of the vintage v3 did have mention of the pause mode at the end of the manual.

No pause? Well I hope these things retain save data, because I have a job and i'm gonna have to "pause" the old fashioned way, removing the batteries entirely.

EDIT: Better yet, if it's like the Digimon 20th, you can just hit reset and leave it on the "load/reset" screen, which the manual seems to indicate is something this release has. Except it's "download" instead of load.

easier than that, you can functionally pause it by just keeping it on the clock editing screen oh, so just like a Tamagotchi Original then? Awesome.

"No version selection for connection" could that mean that they can only connect to other rereleased and not OG tamas? 🥺

Also! I need a pause feature!!! I know we can unofficially pause it on the clock menu, but I love seeing my tama frozen on the pause screen lol

What if we use the "other" option on a vintage and do the connection with the rerelease...if that works, it would be amazing 😭

Was the toothache thing originally in the V3 or is that new? I rarely feed them snacks, so I've never seen it, but I've seen them get sick with the skull icon.

"Choose a 5 letter name for your Tamagotchi character by using A button to scroll through the alphabet and B button to choose letters. NOTE: After naming your Tamagotchi character, you cannot change it."
I have never played this series. Does this mean each time you get a pet? Or you are naming them ALL this?

yep, each time you get a new pet you get to name it something new!

How long do we think a battery will last?

DalekCaek • 2y ago
The lack of a pause kind of sucks but the diagram for the battery gives me hope that I can use a board from a damaged v3 I have laying around.

missmarie9519 • 2y ago
Can you explain what you mean by this?!

1 Award Share

DalekCaek • 2y ago
I have a heavily damaged v3 that needs a new shell, speaker, buttons, everything. Now that I have a few reconnections in hand I'm wondering if I can put the board from the old v3 in and give it a new lease on life.
